PROFILES LISTING

We're pleased to provide some of the most robust and scientifically proven profiling tools available today. askacoach.com is committed to only providing evidence-based tools and backing them up with quality coaching engagements to ensure you get the most from the profiling experience and can use the data as part of your ongoing self awareness, personal and professional development.

We are certified practitioners in the Neethling Brain Instruments® and further information on these tools, including some useful downloads can be found at www.solutionsfinding.com.

A person's brain is divided into four different thinking quadrants:

- L1 – Analytical and factual
- L2 – Organised and detailed
- R2 – Interpersonal and sensitive
- R1 – Strategic and unorthodox

Each of the four quadrants is further divided in two to give 8 distinct dimensions to a persons thinking preference:

- L1 – Realist
- L1 – Analyst
- L2 – Preserver
- L2 – Organiser
- R2 – Socialiser
- R2 – Empathiser
- R1 – Strategist
- R1 – Imagineer

The Brain Profile gives an indication of how:

- You act towards other people
- You do business
- You communicate
- You learn
- You teach
- You solve problems
- You form relationships
- You play sport etc.

The NBI Suite of Instruments we can provide for you include:

Ideally we recommend you do a thinking preference profile (NBI Adult Instrument) combined with a skills profile (NBI Personal Skills Instrument). What you like may not be what you are good at and vice versa. You then you can also link what you like (your personal profile) with what you are asked to do in your job (your job profile). And for teams, what is your preferred contribution?
